

London vs Paris vs New York City

#	Facts	London	Paris	New York
1	It's completely legal for women to walk around there topless.
2	11,000 people were executed on one of the Royal squares.
3	800 different languages are spoken there, making it the most linguistically diverse city on Earth.
4	A metro station has entrances on both sides of the river.
5	A plague pit built in 1665 contains 1,000 bodies under a metro station.
6	Albert Einstein's eyeballs are stored in a safe deposit box in the city.
7	It is a legal requirement for a property seller to disclose if the property a client is inspecting is believed to be haunted by ghosts.
8	It may soon have an underground park
9	It has the largest Chinese population of any city outside of Asia.
10	Jim Morrison died there.
11	More than 26,000 people are living in each square mile.
12	On Nov.24 2012, not a single murder, shooting, stabbing or other incident of violent crime was reported for an entire day. The first time in...ever!
13	The 1st urban underground mode of transport was built there.
14	The city has 722 miles of subway track.
15	The city has a floating garden.
16	The city may soon have a floating airport.
17	The GDP of the city is significantly larger than that of various European countries, including Belgium and Sweden.

18	There are "fake" buildings in the city that are used for subway maintenance and ventilation.
19	There are pineapples carved on top of the city's cathedral
20	There is a group in X called Unthergunter that spends most of its time repeatedly breaking into historical sites and monuments to secretly repair them, building (literally) underground cinemas, and staging clandestine artistic events.
21	X and Rome are exclusive sister cities, seeing no other city as equal counterparts. The two use the motto: " Only X is worthy of Rome; only Rome is worthy of X. "
22	You can find there 3 miniature copies of the Statue of Liberty			