

True or false?

1°) There have been at least two children given the name "Spiderman" in the UK since 1984.

2°) Drinking, drug-taking teenagers are in the decline, according to a survey by the Information Centre.

3°) There is mobile phone reception from the summit of Mount Everest.

4°) Denmark is the happiest country in Europe, France the unhappiest. (The UK is 9th out of 15).

5°) Over 80% of smokers haven't told their parents about their habit.

6°) French babies cry with a regional accent.

7°) French has 6 times as many words as English.

8°) Louis XIV had a bath every month... an exceptionally high frequency for the time!

9°) People in the Middle Ages had two baths per week. Noblemen removed the hairs on their legs.

10°) In the Neolithic age (i.e. 7,000 BC), man could perform successful amputations.